1 Corinthians: What Builds Up? is the new FIOnline class series that started Jan 30. David Johnson is the presenter.

Few of Paul’s epistles give us a more thorough look at the human side of first-century Christianity. Our brethren from that time lived in a world of wealth and poverty, freedom and slavery, beauty and moral depravity not all that different from our world today. In their struggles to understand and live this new way of life, they sometimes put emphasis on the wrong matters, irritated one another, and even unintentionally began to sow the seeds of division. In one of his most insightful epistles, Paul guides our forefathers, and us, to the timeless principles needed in order to move beyond mere outward actions to the deeper level of unity and conversion we all need.

Both the live class on Wednesdays at 8pm EST and the class archive can be found at https://foundationinstitute.org/online

Attention Combined Choir Members: - Sheet music and vocal parts for “This Is My Word” are online at our local website at http://www.clarksville.cogwa.org, under the ’Members Page’ tab. This section is password protected. If you don’t have the login details please email dbulgher@gmail.com for the specifics. This is for the Last Day of Unleavened Bread. Thank you to our Bedford and York brethren who can join Clarksville in this performance.

Clarksville - The Ladies Tea is tomorrow Sunday Feb 17, at the McGhee’s home, starting at 2pm.

Today, we need to be out of the hall by 4pm.
